Your Property

Dear CEA Policyholder,

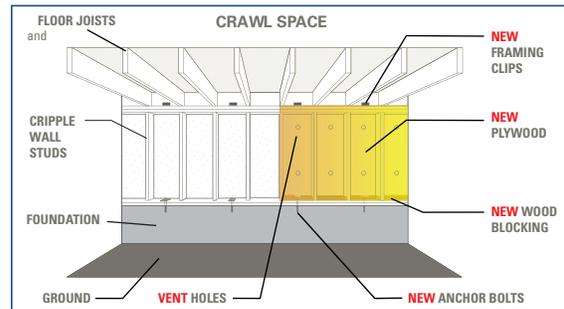

The recent powerful Ridgecrest earthquakes are a wakeup call for California residents— earthquakes can happen anytime, anywhere, and we need to be prepared.

I write today to offer you a unique opportunity. CEA would like to provide you with $3,000 to help you seismically retrofit your home.

And there is even more good news: Once you've retrofitted your house, you will be able to receive a premium discount of up to 25%* on your CEA earthquake insurance policy.

Now is an important time for you to take us up on this offer. Your earthquake insurance premium is going to go up this year, primarily due to the latest earth science showing risk for earthquake damage is now greater in your area. (Please note: These rate changes are the result of several years of risk analysis and not a result of the recent Ridgecrest earthquakes.) We want to help offset your premium increase, and make your house safer, by helping you complete a simple retrofit.

Completing a code-compliant retrofit is neither complex nor time consuming. A licensed contractor can complete this job in a couple of days, and it typically costs between $3,000 and $6,000. If you are a skilled do-it-yourselfer, you may be able to do the work.

Retrofitting in the crawlspace according to current building codes is very important. It will make the house less vulnerable to sliding off its foundation and reduce your CEA policy premium.

The number of $3,000 CEA retrofit grants is limited, so please take the first step today. Go to the program website, CEABraceBolt.com, and select "Register" to begin the process. Or, call 1-800-584-BOLT (2658) for more information.

We hope you will take advantage of this important opportunity to strengthen your home.

Sincerely,

Glenn Pomeroy, CEO
California Earthquake Authority

*As of July 1, 2019, the 5% self-verified seismic discount is no longer available. If you have a code-compliant seismic retrofit, use the CEA Dwelling Retrofit Verification form available on the CEA website to receive a discount up to 25%.
